As Required by the Privacy Regulations Created Under the Health Insurance Portability & Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA)

This Notice describes how medical information about you (as a patient of Advocare) may be used and disclosed, and how you can get access to this information. Please review this Notice carefully.

A. Our Commitment to Your Privacy

Each Advocare Care Center is dedicated to maintaining the privacy of your Protected Health Information. "Protected Health Information" or "PHI" is information about you, including demographic information, that may identify you and that relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition, the provision of health care to you, or the payment for your health care. In conducting our business, we will create records regarding you and the treatment and services we provide to you. We are required by law to maintain the confidentiality of health information that identifies you.

This Notice of Privacy Practices describes how we may use and disclose your Protected Health Information to carry out treatment, payment and health care operations and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your PHI. We reserve the right to revise or amend this Notice of Privacy Practices. Any revision or amendment to this Notice will be effective from the date of revision or amendment forward. Each Care Center will post a copy of our current Notice in our offices in a visible location at all times, and you may request a copy of our most current Notice at any time. You may also review a copy on Advocare's website.

The following are examples of the types of uses and disclosures of your Protected Health Information by your Advocare Care Center physician and other treatment providers and our office staff. These uses and disclosures are permitted under HIPAA and other applicable laws and regulations and may be made without your specific written authorization.

In addition, we may ask you to have laboratory tests (such as blood or urine tests), and we may receive and use the results to help us reach a diagnosis. We will share your PHI with third party “business associates” that perform various activities (for example, billing or transcription services) for our practice. Under certain circumstances, we may terminate our agreement to a restriction.

3. Confidential Communications: You have the right to request that Advocare communicate with you about your health and related issues in a particular manner or at a certain location. We may deny your request if you ask us to amend information that is in our opinion: (a) accurate and complete; (b) not part of the PHI kept by or for Advocare; (c) not part of the PHI which you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or (d) not created by Advocare, unless the individual or entity that created the information is not available to amend the information.

5. Accounting of Disclosures: You have the right to get a list of instances in which we have disclosed your PHI. The list will not include uses or disclosures made for purposes of treatment, payment, or health care operations, those made pursuant to your written authorization, or those made directly to you or your authorized representative. The list also will not include uses and disclosures made for national security purposes, or to corrections or law enforcement personnel. We will respond within 60 days of receiving your written request. The list we will give you will include disclosures made in the last six years unless you request a shorter time. The list will include the date of the disclosure, to whom PHI was disclosed (including the address, if known), a description of the information disclosed, and the reason for the disclosure. 6. Breach of PHI: Advocare will notify individuals following a breach of their unsecured PHI. A breach means the acquisition, access, use, or disclosure of unsecured PHI in a manner not permitted under HIPAA and that compromises the security or privacy of the PHI.
